Grow your business in China: meet the China-Britain Business Council in a one-to-one business clinic

In 2013 exports from the West Midlands to China were worth over £1 billion, making it the region's most important export market. There are opportunities for UK businesses across a wide range of sectors, with small and medium sized businesses encouraged to explore their export potential.

On 18 June Shropshire Chamber will host a business clinic, offering one-to-one sessions with Mark Eaton, an adviser from the China-Britain Business Council (CBBC) with 20 years of experience. CBBC is the UK's leading organisation for UK businesses looking to grow in China. The 45 minute sessions are the ideal platform to discuss any aspect of trading with China that is relevant to your business, whether this involves support to break into the Chinese market or advice on how you can consolidate your existing presence in China.

There are a limited number of sessions available at the China Business Clinics, so please book early to avoid disappointment.
